DIEGO CARPITELLA SCHOLARSHIP 2022

Competition for a research scholarship in memory of Diego Carpitella to support the creation of an audiovisual product of ethnomusicological interest

Application deadline: 1 April 2023

As part of the Eyes on Music: Visual Ethnomusicology Projects initiative, the Intercultural Institute of Comparative Music Studies (IISMC), has set up a research scholarship in memory of Diego Carpitella to support the creation of an audiovisual product of ethnomusicological interest. This call for applications is addressed to young Italian and international researchers with experience in the field of audiovisual ethnomusicology (preferably under the age of 40 on the day of the deadline), who present an original and unpublished project for the creation of an audiovisual product.

The value of the scholarship is 5,000 euros (before tax).

To participate in the selection process, candidates must send the application form (downloadable online from the Fondazione Giorgio Cini website), completed in every section and with all the relevant attachments, to the Intercultural Institute of Comparative Music Studies (musica.comparata@cini.it) by 1 April 2023.

Applications will be examined by a panel of experts who will select the scholarship winner by 15 May 2023. The panel will be composed of three members appointed by the IISMC. The panel reserves the right not to award the scholarship. The IISMC secretary's office will inform all candidates via email about the outcome of the selection process and the name of the winner will be published on Fondazione Giorgio Cini website.

The scholarship winner will commit to making the audiovisual product within one year of being awarded the scholarship. Work in progress will be periodically monitored in a way to be agreed upon with the project advisory committee. IISMC will organise a public screening in Venice of the finished audiovisual product.

An integral part of the scholarship is the winner's participation in the Eyes on Music's workshops. This year the workshop is focused on "Audiovisual post-production in ethnomusicology" and it will be held at the Fondazione Giorgio Cini (Venice) from 3 to 6 July 2023.

A copy of the final product and of the footage collected during the production will be kept in the IISMC archive, to be used for research and other non-for-profit purposes.

IISMC reserves the right of first refusal for the publication of the film.

The winner of Carpitella Scholarship must ensure ownership and proper licensing of the copyright of all original and archival materials of the video. All archival footage must be properly attributed.

All persons appearing in the original materials must provide informed consent to the filming and to the distribution of the film.

All responsibility and legal liability in relation to copyright law infringements rest solely upon the filmmaker.
